

Induction: Accreditation Options

	Initial Program Approval for Credentialing	On-going Program Review for Credentialing	Entity that can Impose Sanctions for Credentialing
Current BTSA/Induction program approval and review process	Panel reviews program document. Commission (and CDE) approve initial programs	BTSA Leadership develops and implements the BTSA Formal Program Review process	CTC and CDE together
CTC & CDE initially approve programs, Commission reviews programs on an on-going basis for credential awarding status	Panel reviews program document. Commission (and CDE) approve initial programs	BTSA Leadership develops and implements the BTSA Formal Program Review process. Continued program status is reported or approved by the Commission (& CDE)	(BTSA Leadership) & Commission
CTC & CDE initially approve programs, COA approves programs based on review of the BTSA/Induction FPR report.	Panel reviews program document. Commission (and CDE) approve initial programs	BTSA Leadership develops and implements the BTSA Formal Program Review process modeled on the Accreditation System. Induction reviews would not use BIR members. FPR Reports are presented to COA for program approval.	(BTSA Leadership) & COA
CTC & CDE initially approve programs, COA reviews programs on an on-going basis	Panel reviews program document. Commission (and CDE) approve initial programs	BIR members participate in the Induction site review process. Induction program staff is trained by BIR and participate in all types of accreditation visits.	COA
COA approves initial programs and reviews all Induction programs as part of the accreditation system	Panel reviews program document. COA approves programs	BTSA Leadership develops and implements the BTSA Formal Program Review process modeled on the Accreditation System. Induction reviews would not use BIR members. FPR Reports are presented to COA for program approval.	(BTSA Leadership) & COA
COA approves initial programs and reviews all Induction programs as part of the accreditation system	Panel reviews program document. COA approves programs	BIR members participate in the Induction site review process. Induction program staff is trained by BIR and participate in all types of accreditation visits.	COA

Previously additional funding has been available for BTSA Formal Program Review activities. With BTSA in a block grant in 05-06, this may not be the case.